A Digital Anthology of Early Modern English Drama

emed.folger.edu

Discover over four hundred early modern English plays that were professionally performed in London between 1576 and 1642. Browse plays written by Shakespeare's contemporaries; explore the repertoires of London's professional companies; and download plays for reading and research.

This documentary edition has been edited to provide an accurate and transparent transcription of a single copy of the earliest surviving print edition of this play. Further material, including editorial policy and XML files of the play, is available on the EMED website. EMED texts are edited and encoded by Meaghan Brown, Michael Poston, and Elizabeth Williamson, and build on work done by the EEBO-TCP and the Shakespeare His Contemporaries project. This project is funded by a Humanities Collections and Reference Resources grant from the NEH's Division of Preservation and Access.

To the Gentlemen Readers: and others that take pleasure in reading Histories.

GEntlemen, and curteous Readers whosoeuer: I haue here published in print for your sakes, the two tragical Discourses of the Scythian Shepheard, Tamburlaine, that became so great a Conquerour, and so mightie a Monarque: My hope is, that they wil be now no lesse acceptable vnto you to read after your serious affaires and studies, then they have bene (lately) delightfull for many of you to see, when the same were shewed in London vpon stages: I haue (purposely) omitted and left out some fond and friuolous Iestures, digressing (and in my poore opinion) far vnmeet for the matter, which I thought, might seeme more tedious vnto the wise, than any way els to be regarded, though (happly) they have bene of some vaine coceited fondlings greatly gaped at, what times they were shewed vpon the stage in their graced deformities: neuertheles now, to be mixtured in print with such matter of worth, it wuld

The Prologue.

FRom iygging vaines of riming mother wits, And such conceits as clownage keepes in pay, Weele lead you to the stately tent of War. Where you shall heare the Scythian Tamburlaine: Threatning the world with high astounding tearms And scourging kingdoms with his cōquering sword View but his picture in this tragicke glasse, And then applaud his fortunes as you please.

Returne with speed, time passeth swift away,

Our life is fraile, and we may die to day.

Doubt not my Lord and gratious Soueraigne,

But Tamburlaine, and that Tartarian rout,

Shall either perish by our warlike hands,

Or plead for mercie at your highnesse feet.

Myce. Go, stout Theridimas, thy words are swords

And with thy lookes thou conquerest all thy foes:

I long to see thee back returne from thence.

That I may view these milk-white steeds of mine.

> To the Battaile, and Mycetes comes out alone with his Crowne in his hand offering to hide it.

Accurst be he that first invented war. Mvc.They knew not, ah, they knew not simple men, How those were hit by pelting Cannon shot, Stand staggering like a quiuering Aspen leafe, Fearing the force of Boreas boistrous blasts. In what a lamentable case were I, If Nature had not given me wisedomes lore? For Kings are clouts that euery man shoots at, Our Crowne the pin that thousands seeke to cleaue, Therefore in pollicie I thinke it good To hide it close: a goodly Stratagem, And far from any man that is a foole. So shall not I be knowen, or if I bee, They cannot take away my crowne from me. Here will I hide it in this simple hole.

Enter Tamburlain.

Ah, life, and soule still houer in his Breast.

And leave my body sencelesse as the earth.

Or els vnite you to his life and soule,

That I may liue and die with tamburlaine.

Enter Tamburlaine with Techelles and others.

With tamburlaine? Ah faire zenocrate. Agid.

Let not a man so vile and barbarous,

That holds you from your father in despight,

And keeps you from the honors of a Oueene.

Being supposde his worthlesse Concubine.

Be honored with your loue, but for necessity.

So now the mighty Souldan heares of you,

Your Highnesse needs not doubt but in short time,

He will with Tamburlaines destruction

Redeeme you from this deadly seruitude.

leaue to wound me with these words.

And speake of tamburlaine as he deserues:

The entertainment we have had of him.

Is far from villanie or seruitude.

And might in noble minds be counted princely.

How can you fancie one that lookes so fierce,

Onelie disposed to martiall Stratagems?

Who when he shall embrace you in his armes,

Will tell how many thousand men he slew.

Zen. As looks the sun through Nilus flowing stream, Or when the morning holds him in her armes. So lookes my Lordly loue, faire tamburlaine: His talke much sweeter than the Muses song, They sung for honor gainst Pierides. Or when Minerua did with Neptune striue,

And higher would I reare my estimate, Than Iuno sister to the highest God.

If I were matcht with mightie tamburlaine.

Agid. Yet be not so inconstant in your loue, But let the yong Arabian liue in hope, After your rescue to eioy his choise. You see though first the King of Persea (Being a Shepheard) seem'd to loue you much, Now in his maiesty he leaues those lookes, Those words of fauour, and those comfortings, And giues no more than common courtesies.

Zen. Thence rise the tears that so distain my cheeks, Fearing his loue through my vnworthynesse.

Tamburlaine goes to her, & takes her away louingly by the hand, looking wrathfully on Agidas, and sayes nothing.

Agid. Betraide by fortune and suspitious loue. Threatned with frowning wrath and iealousie. Surpriz d with feare of hideous reuenge. I stand agast: but most astonied To see his choller shut in secrete thoughtes, And wrapt in silence of his angry soule.

That naked rowe about the Terrene sea.
And when they chance to breath and rest a space,
Are punisht with Bastones so grieuously,
That they lie panting on the Gallies side.
And striue for life at euery stroke they giue,
These are the cruell pirates of Argeire,
That damned traine, the scum of Affrica.
Inhabited with stragling Runnagates,
That make quick hauock of the Christian blood.
But as I liue that towne shall curse the time That Tamburlaine set foot in Affrica:

May merit fauour at your highnesse handes,
Then raise your siege from faire Damascus walles,
And with my father take a frindly truce.

Yet would I with my sword make Ioue to stoope, I will confute those blind Geographers
That make a triple region in the world,
Excluding Regions which I meane to trace,
And with this pen reduce them to a Map.
Calling the Prouinces, Citties and townes
After my name and thine zenocrate:
Here at Damascus will I make the Point That shall begin the Perpendicular.
And wouldst thou haue me buy thy Fathers loue
With such a losse? Tell me zenocrate?

Zen. Honor still waight on happy tamburlaine:
Yet giue me leaue to plead for him my Lord.
Tam. Content thy selfe, his person shall be safe.
And all the friendes of faire Zenocrate,
If with their liues they will be pleasde to yeeld,
Or may be forc'd to make me Emperour.

For Egypt and Arabia must be mine.

Bai. I Tyrant, and more meat.

tam. Soft sir, you must be dieted, too much eating will make you surfeit.

ther. So it would my lord, specially having so smal a walke, and so litle exercise.

Enter a second course of Crownes.

tam. Theridamas, techelles and Casane, here are the cates you desire to finger, are they not?

ther. I (my Lord) but none saue kinges must feede with these.

tech. Tis enough for vs to see them, and for tamburlaine onely to enioy them.

tam. Wel, Here is now to the Souldane of Egypt the King of Arabia, and the Gouernout of Damascus. Now take these three crownes, and pledge me, my contributorie Kings.

I crowne you here (Theridamas) King of Argier: Techelles King of Fesse, and Vsumeasane King of Morocus. How say you to this (Turke) these are not your contributorie kings.

wln 2157	As hell, as hoplesse and as full of feare wln 2158	As are the blasted banks of Erebus :
wln 2159	Where shaking ghosts with euer howling grones, wln 2160	Houer about the vgly Ferriman, to get a passage to E - wln 2161	why should we liue, O wretches, beggars slaues (lisiã wln 2162	Why liue we Baiazeth , and build vp neasts, wln 2163	So high within the region of the aire, wln 2164	By liuing long in this oppression, wln 2165	That all the world will see and laugh to scorne.
wln 2166	The former triumphes of our mightines, wln 2167	In this obscure infernall seruitude?
wln 2168	Bai. O life more loathsome to my vexed thoughts, wln 2169	Than noisome parbreak of the Stygian Snakes, wln 2170	Which fils the nookes of Hell with standing aire, wln 2171	Infecting all the Ghosts with curelesse griefs:
wln 2172	O dreary Engines of my loathed sight, wln 2173	That sees my crowne, my honor and my name, wln 2174	Thrust vnder yoke and thraldom of a thiefe.
wln 2175	Why feed ye still on daies accursed beams, wln 2176	And sink not quite into my tortur'd soule.
wln 2177	You see my wife, my Queene and Emperesse, wln 2178	Brought vp and propped by the hand of fame, wln 2179	Queen of fifteene contributory Queens, wln 2180	Now throwen to roomes of blacke abiection,
wln 2181	Smear'd with blots of basest drudgery:

From whence the issues of my thoughts doe breake, O poore zabina, O my Queen, my Queen, Fetch me some water for my burning breast, To coole and comfort me with longer date, That in the shortned sequel of my life, I may poure foorth my soule into thine armes, With words of loue: whose moaning entercourse Hath hetherto bin staid, with wrath and hate Of our expreslesse band inflictions inflictions: zab. Sweet Baiazeth, I will prolong thy life, As long as any blood or sparke of breath Can quench or coole the torments of my griefe.

She goes out:

Now Baiazeth, abridge thy banefull daies, And beat thy braines out of thy conquer'd head: Since other meanes are all forbidden me, That may be ministers of my decay. O highest Lamp of euerliuing Ioue, Accursed day infected with my griefs, Hide now thy stained face in endles night, And shut the windowes of the lightsome heavens, Let vgly darknesse with her rusty coach Engyrt with tempests wrapt in pitchy clouds, Smother the earth with neuer fading mistes: And let her horses from their nostrels breathe Rebellious winds and dreadfull thunderclaps: That in this terrour tamburlaine may liue. And my pin'd soule resolu'd in liquid av, May styl excruciat his tormented thoughts. Then let the stony dart of sencelesse colde. Pierce through the center of my withered heart, And make a passage for my loathed life. He brains himself against the cage.

Enter Zabina.

What do mine eies behold, my husband dead? zab. His Skul al riuin in twain, his braines dasht out? The braines of Baiazeth, my Lord and Soueraigne? O Baiazeth, my husband and my Lord, O Baiazet, O Turk, O Emperor, giue him his liquor Not I, bring milk and fire, and my blood I bring him againe, teare me in peeces, give me the sworde with a ball of wildefire vpon it. Downe with him, downe with him. Goe to my child, away, away, away. Ah, saue that Infant, saue him, saue him. I, euen I speake to her, the Sun was downe. Streamers white. Red, Blacke, here here, here. Fling the meat in his face. Tamburlaine, tamburlaine, Let the souldiers be buried. Hel, death, tamburlain, Hell, make ready my Coch, my chaire, my iewels, I come, I come, I come.

She runs against the Cage and braines her selfe

Zenocrate wyth Anippe,

Wretched Zenocrate, that liuest to see, Damascus walles di'd with Egytian blood. Thy Fathers subjects and thy countrimen: Thy streetes strowed with disseuered iointes of men, And wounded bodies gasping yet for life. But most accurst, to see the Sun=bright troope Of heauenly vyrgins and vnspotted maides, Whose lookes might make the angry God of armes, To breake his sword, and mildly treat of loue, On horsmens Lances to be hoisted vp, And guiltlesly endure a cruell death. For euery fell and stout Tartarian Stead,

That

wln 2259	Ah wretched eies, the enemies of my hart, wln 2260	How are ye glutted with these grieuous objects, wln 2261	And tell my soule mor tales of bleeding ruth?
wln 2262	See, se Anippe if they breathe or no.
wln 2263	Anip. No breath nor sence, nor motion in them both wln 2264	Ah Madam, this their slauery hath Enforc'd, wln 2265	And ruthlesse cruelty of Tamburlaine .
wln 2266	Zen. Earth cast vp fountaines from thy entralles, wln 2267	And wet thy cheeks for their vntimely deathes:
wln 2268	Shake with their waight in signe of feare & griefe:
wln 2269	Blush heauen, that gaue them honor at their birth, wln 2271	Those that are proud of fickle Empery, wln 2272	And place their chiefest good in earthly pompe:

wln 2273	Behold the Turke and his great Emperesse.
wln 2274	Ah tamburlaine, my loue, sweet tamburlaine, wln 2275	That fights for Scepters and for slippery crownes, wln 2276	Behold the Turk and his great Emperesse, wln 2277	Thou that in conduct of thy happy stars,
wln 2278	Sleep'st euery night with conquest on thy browes, wln 2279	And yet wouldst shun the wauering turnes of war,

The Conquests of Tamburlaine,

wln 2282	Ah myghty Ioue and holy Mahomet , wln 2283	Pardon my Loue, oh pardon his contempt, wln 2284	Of earthly fortune, and respect of pitie, wln 2285	And let not conquest ruthlesly pursewde
wln 2286	Be equally against his life incenst, wln 2287	In this great Turk and haplesse Emperesse.
wln 2288	And pardon me that was not moou'd with ruthe, wln 2289	To see them liue so long in misery:
wln 2290	Ah what may chance to thee zenocrate ?
wln 2291	Anip, Madam content your self and be resolu'd, wln 2292	Your Loue hath fortune so at his command, wln 2293	That she shall stay and turne her wheele no more, wln 2294	As long as life maintaines his mighty arme, wln 2295	That fights for honor to adorne your head.
wln 2296	Enter a Messenger.
wln 2297	Zen. What other heauie news now brings Philemus ?
wln 2298	Phi. Madam, your father and th' Arabian king, wln 2299	The first affecter of your excellence, wln 2300	Comes now as Turnus gainst Eneas did.
wln 2301	Armed with lance into the Egyptian fields, wln 2302	Ready for battaile gainst my Lord the King.
wln 2303	Zen. Now shame and duty, loue and feare presents wln 2304	A thousand sorrowes to my martyred soule:
wln 2305	Whom should I wish the fatall victory, wln 2306	When my poore pleasures are deuided thus,
wln 2307	And rackt by dutie from my cursed heart:
wln 2308	My father and my first betrothed loue, wln 2309	Must fight against my life and present loue:
wln 2310	Wherin the change I vse condemns my faith, wln 2311	And makes my deeds infamous through the world.

wln 2314	And fatally enricht Eneas loue.
wln 2315	So for a finall Issue to my griefes, wln 2316	To pacifie my countrie and my loue, wln 2317	Must Tamburlaine by their resistlesse powers, wln 2318	With vertue of a gentle victorie, wln 2319	Conclude a league of honor to my hope, wln 2320	Then as the powers deuine haue preordainde, wln 2321	With happy safty of my fathers life,
wln 2322	Send like defence of faire Arabia .
wln 2323	They sound to the battaile.
wln 2324	And Tamburlaine enioyes the victory, after Arabia wln 2325	enters wounded.
wln 2326	Ar. What cursed power guides the murthering hands, wln 2327	Of this infamous Tyrants souldiers.
wln 2328	That no escape may saue their enemies:
wln 2329	Nor fortune keep them selues from victory.
wln 2330	Lye down Arabia , wounded to the death, wln 2331	And let Zenocrates faire eies beholde wln 2332	That as for her thou bearst these wretched armes.
wln 2333	Euen so for her thou diest in these armes:
wln 2334	Leauing thy blood for witnesse of thy loue.
wln 2335	zen. Too deare a witnesse for such loue my Lord, wln 2336	Behold Zenocrate , the cursed object
wln 2337	Whose Fortunes neuer mastered her griefs:
wln 2338	Behold her wounded in conceit for thee, wln 2339	As much as thy faire body is for me.
wln 2340	Ar. Then shal I die with full contented heart, wln 2341	Hauing beheld deuine Zenocrate, wln 2342	Whose sight with ioy would take away my life, wln 2343	As now it bringeth sweetnesse to my wound,

Would lend an howers license to my tongue:
To make discourse of some sweet accidents
Haue chanc'd thy merits in this worthles bondage.
And that I might be priuy to the state,
Of thy deseru'd contentment and thy loue:
But making now a vertue of thy sight,
To driue all sorrow from my fainting soule:
Since Death denies me further cause of ioy.
Depriu'd of care, my heart with comfort dies.
Since thy desired hand shall close mine eies.

Enter Tamburlain leading the Souldane, Techelles, Theridamas, Vsumeasane, with others.

Come happy Father of Zenocrate,

A title higher than thy Souldans name: Though my right hand have thus enthralled thee Thy princely daughter here shall set thee free. She that hath calmde the furie of my sword. Which had ere this bin bathde in streames of blood, As vast and deep as Euphrates or Nile. O sight thrice welcome to my ioiful soule. To see the king my Father issue safe, From dangerous battel of my conquering Loue. Wel met my only deare Zenocrate, Though with the losse of Egypt and my Crown. Twas I my lord that gat the victory, And therfore grieue not at your ouerthrow. Since I shall render all into your hands. And ad more strength to your dominions Then euer yet confirm'd th'Egyptian Crown.

wln 2407	Of force must yeeld their crownes and Emperies, wln 2408	And I am pleasde with this my ouerthrow:
wln 2409	If as beseemes a person of thy state,
wln 2410	Thou hast with honor vsde Zenocrate.
wln 2411	tamb. Her state and person wants no pomp you see, wln 2412	And for all blot of foule inchastity,
wln 2413	I record heauen, her heauenly selfe is cleare:
wln 2414	Then let me find no further time to grace
wln 2415	Her princely Temples with the Persean crowne:
wln 2416	But here these kings that on my fortunes wait:
wln 2417	And haue bene crown'd for prooued worthynesse, wln 2418	Euen by this hand that shall establish them, wln 2419	Shal now, adioining al their hands with mine, wln 2420	Inuest her here my Queene of Persea , wln 2421	What saith the noble Souldane and Zenocrate?
wln 2422	Soldan I yeeld with thanks and protestations wln 2423	Of endlesse honor to thee for her loue.
wln 2424	Tamb. Then doubt I not but faire Zenocrate wln 2425	Will soone consent to satisfy vs both.
wln 2426	Zen. Els should I much forget my self, my Lord, wln 2427	Ther : Then let vs set the crowne vpon her head, wln 2428	That long hath lingred for so high a seat.
wln 2429	Tech. My hand is ready to performe the deed, wln 2430	For now her mariage time shall worke vs rest:
wln 2431	Vsum. And her's the crown my Lord, help set it on wln 2432	Tam. Then sit thou downe diuine Zenocrate , wln 2433	And here we crowne thee Queene of Persea , wln 2434	And all the kingdomes and dominions
wln 2435	That late the power of Tamburlaine subdewed:
wln 2436	As Iuno, when the Giants were supprest, wln 2443	Egyptians, Moores and men of Asia, wln 2444	From Barbary vnto the Westerne Indie , wln 2445	Shall pay a yearly tribute to thy Syre.

wln 2446	And from the boundes of Affrick to the banks wln 2447	Of Ganges , shall his mighty arme extend.
wln 2448	And now my Lords and louing followers, wln 2449	That purchac'd kingdomes by your matiall deeds, wln 2450	Cast off your armor, put on scarlet roabes.
wln 2451	Mount vp your royall places of estate, wln 2452	Enuironed with troopes of noble men,
wln 2453	And there make lawes to rule your prouinces:
wln 2454	Hang vp your weapons on Alcides poste, wln 2455	For Tamburlaine takes truce with al the world.
wln 2456	Thy first betrothed, Loue Arabia, wln 2457	Shall we with honor (as beseemes) entombe,
